1 Introduction

Balanced draws are provided for group sizes ranging from 12 to 50. In addition, these draws do not suffer from the recovery issue where a competitor who dances in the last set of a dance is required to dance in the first set of a subsequent dance.

On the following pages, balanced draws are provided for groups ranging in size from 12 to 50.

To understand the tables, refer to the draw for the group of size 12 on the following page. We see here that competitor #11 is the first to dance the Fling, competitor #3 is the second to dance the Fling, and so on.

Note first that the draw is balanced. For example, competitor #1 dances 8th in the Fling, 2nd in the Swords, 11th in the Sean Truibhas and 5th in the Reel, giving a total of  $8 + 2 + 11 + 5 = 26$ . It is easily verified that each of the competitors in the group of 12 have the same total of 26.

Note also that the draw has no recovery problems. For example, competitors #4, #6, #12 and #7 dance in the last set of the Fling but do not dance in the first set of the Swords.

To implement the draw, the competition committee simply needs to establish a correspondence between competitors 1-12 (as specified in the draw) and the kilt numbers that the competitors have been assigned. For example, the competition committee might put all 12 of the kilt numbers in a hat. The first kilt number that is pulled out corresponds to competitor #1 in the draw, the second kilt number that is pulled out corresponds to competitor #2 in the draw, and so on. The competition committee then prints out the draw with the competitor numbers replaced by the kilt numbers.
